Our group reservations are for economy class only; unfortunately upgrades are not available. Should you want upgraded seats or to fly using airline miles you can simply book the same flights as the group on your own. There will be group transportation provided from the airport to the hotel (and vice versa) for those on the group flights, or those on the same itinerary. For those booking their own flights we're happy to assist in booking your transfers (see below). Later this summer, we will send out a request to select group airfare or to tell us you are purchasing your own airfare. Stay tuned for that request.

For those of you booking your OWN airfare, please consider the following:

- The first group activity will be dinner on the 3rd of April, meaning that if you depart the USA on the 2nd you should arrive in time for the group meal in Tel Aviv. The first full day of touring will be on the 4th of April.
- Many of our travelers arrive a day or two early in order to beat the jetlag before the tour starts. If you'd like to do so, we'd be happy to book you a room at the group hotel at the group rate. We're also happy to arrange for transfers from the airport to our hotel in Tel Aviv (transfers apart from the group are at an additional cost).
- The final day of touring (in Jerusalem) will be the 11th of April, and the 12th will be a travel day to return to the USA. As you look for flights, please be aware that it is normal for many of them to depart Tel Aviv extremely early in the morning, or even very late the night before (on the 11th) If you choose to fly out on the 11th, please be sure to book your flight after 11:45PM so you do not miss the final dinner. The group flight departs at 7:50AM on April 12th.
- If you'd like to stay in Jerusalem beyond the end of the tour we'd also be happy to book additional nights for you. Your hotel stay the night of the 11th is included in the tour. We're also happy to arrange transfers from our hotel in Jerusalem to Tel Aviv (about a 45 minute ride from Jerusalem, transfers are an additional cost).
- As we get closer to the tour date, we'll be sending out a request on our site where you can provide your flight information, as well as request transfers and / or hotel stays at the beginning and end of the tour (pricing for those options will be listed at that time).
